Empire is a lamp by Studio Job, that combines three unlike architectural icons, symbols of power in different ages: starting with the Parthenon on the bottom, it grows with the imposing presence of the Empire State Building and ends with the Capitol on the top. It expresses Job's fascination for landmarks and their meaning, reflecting on the power that is housed within these huge buildings or landmarks. Wireless, with a rechargeable battery, LED light, and 16 different interchangeable RGB colors, it can be regulated from a distance by remote control.
